

This simulation assumes that only one mail item is created which is a fragile item. Thus this implies that the outermost loop loads the robot only once.

